Facts

- The tower's gables are soberly decorated with a knowing alternation of the face joints.
- The main pedestrian entrance was placed on the terraced roof of the building.
- A foot-bridge passes 15 meters above the road and provides direct access from the park and the RER station.
- Wogenscky is a student of the famous architect Le Corbusier. The influence of Le Corbusier can be felt, for example, in the use of stilts, bare form-poured concrete and sun-breaks.
