Facts

- The Maison Blanche Department Store and neighboring Kress Building were redeveloped into the Ritz-Carlton New Orleans, which opened in 2000.
- The hotel's lobby is located on the third floor as opposed to the first.
- On the first two floors, a traditional, New Orleans style courtyard was created by demolishing the existing bays, allowing for a column-free space.
- Due to the building's original design, fifty different room designs were created within the existing Department Store space.
