Facts

- Designed by Adrian D. Smith, FAIA, RIBA Design Partner at Skidmore Owings & Merrill LLP.
- The building's expressionist form is inspired by frequency waves, the basis of telecommunications.
- Although the repetitive floors are identical, they are each rotated from the plan of the floor below, just as they are in 30 St Mary Axe.

- A visual indicator of these floor rotations is a unique spiral housing hanging gardens around the building's core.
